BALTIMORE & OHIO RAILROAD!

THIS GREAT WORK OF INTER-HIS GREAT WORK OF INTERnal improvement (879 miles from Wheeling to Baltimore, and 403 to Washington,) was opened to the Ohio river in January, 1853, and has now been fully tasted and approved, both as a freight and passenger route. This road is located in a romantic country, is solidly constructed, fully equipped, and carefully managed, and is thus rendered an attractive as well as a safe line for travelers. The late completion of the Oentral Ohio Road, from Columbus to the Ohio river, near Wheeling, adds greatly to the importance of this route, offering, as it does, the most thorough Railroad connection with the entire West. connection with the entire West.

THE ONLY THROUGH TICKETS BETWEEN LOUISVILLE AND THE NATIONAL METROPOLIS are sold by this road, which runs direct to Washington without the delay of passing through Baltimore. It is also the only line by which baggage can be checked to washington from the West. At Baltimore the road makes a direct connection with the Railroad to Philadelphia and New York, &c.
Passengers going East from Louisville, may proceed by steamboat to Cincinnati, and there take the Railroad to connect with this line, or may leave Louisville by the Jefferson ville kailroad direct.

The Mail Steamers leave Louisville daily for CincinThe Mail Steamers leave Louisville daily for Cincin-Jeffersonville Railroad direct.

The Mail Steamers leave Louisville daily for Cincinati, where they arrive so as to connect with the cars of the Little Miami Railroad at A. M. (or 5 p. M.,) for Coumbus, connecting there with Central Ohio Railroad, through Newark and Zanesville to Belleair, on the Ohio, opposite Benwood station, 4 miles below Wheeling. At this place the connection with the B. and O. Railroad is made direct. By express train of this route, the time from Cincinnati to Baltimore is less than 29 hours.

THROUGH TICKETS are sold as follows: By mail steamers to Cincinnati, from Louisville to Washington, 1815; to Baltimore $17: to Philadelphia, $18; and to New Be sure to ask for the Baltimore and Ohio cofferson will Railroad for the Baltimore and Ohio coad route, by way of the Jefferson wille, Ohio, and issippl, Little Miami, and Central Ohio Railroad, at Ollowing rates: From Louisville to Washington, $18 of Baltimore, $17 50; to Philadelphia, $18 50; to New 50; to Baltimore, $17 50; to Philadelphia, $18 50; to New York, $21.

At WHEELING or Benwood the passenger takes the superior cars of the B. and O. Kaliroad, which leave daily at 5 p. M., and Ilid5 p. M., for Baltimore, Washington, (or Philadelphia) by close connection, arriving here in 16 or 17 hours, including stoppages. For safety, speed, regularity, beauty of the country, and general comfort, this road is second to none in the Union.

FREIGHTS—With the largest equipment of any Railroad in the United States, the company is prepared to to an immense business in the transportation of freights, which are carried with care and dispatch, and atrates as ow as those of any other first class line. Horrible Scenes in China.

If there were any doubt about the rotundity of the earth, we think the reception of the California and European mails in our office, sometimes on the same day, each bringing news from China, and the news in each identical, would be a satisfactory demonstration. The Atlantic arrived at New York last week from Liverpool, and from her mails, received here on Sunday last, we selected, among other things, a harrowing account of the execution of rebels in Canton. The Northern Light, with eighteen days later news from California, arrived at New York on Saturday, and in the California papers we find the same shocking details. We quote the annexed paragraphs from the San Francisco Herald:

Execution of Thirty-Five Hundred Chi-

the San Francisco Herald:

EXECUTION OF THIRTY-FIVE HUNDRED CHINESE REBELS NEAR CANTON.—Mr. Silas E. Burrows, jr., who has just returned to this city, after an absence of nearly two years, the greater portion of which time he spent in China, was an eye witness to the execution of thirty-five hundred Chinese rebels who were taken prisoners in the Chinese rebels, who were taken prisoners in the battle near Canton in the month of March last. The prisoners were taken to a low marshy island, nell, John Morgan, John D. Miles, John Roberts, The prisoners were taken to a low marsay island, and there each was compelled to undergo a form of trial before a tribunal of Mandarins, and each nez, John F. Butler, and Judge Evan M. Garriott, was sentenced to death by decapitation. One by one they were led forth to the execution ground, a large space covered with sawdust to the depth expressive of the feelings of the meeting. of several inches.

To give a greater degree of awful effect to the scene, an elevated platform was erected, consisting of a single narrow plank, over which each unhap-py victim had to pass in full view of his fellowcaptives, whose terms of existence, whether of an McCracken, Livingston, Caldwell, and Lyon—J. hour or day, depended entirely upon the will of their captors. The prisoners manifested the most stolid indifference to everything connected with the scene, apparently as unconscious of their terrible fate as dumb brutes going to the shambles. American Ladies in Japan.—We are informed by Capt. Burrows, of the ship Lizzie Jarvis, from Hong Kong, that some time before his departure from that port, the news had been received from Samodi in Japan, that an American trading vessel (a brig or schooner) had arrived there having on board some merchants (American) and their wives, and that the Japanese authorities had opposed the landing of the ladies. When the Young America igiven for the ungallant conduct of the Japanese; it appears that in the regist of free will in the choice of those who are to rule in high places, and direct the destinies of these United States, is a privilege of inestimable worth, though the birthright of every free citizen of this great community of States.

And, whereas, it appears that at no former period in the history of this country has any state of things been presented for consideration more foreboding of evil to the republic and dangerous to the tranquility of its people, than is now made manifest by the display of the secret machinations of religious bigotry and intolerance heretofore unknown to our people, and unworthy the age in which we live.

The Youth of Rachel. English translation of the tragedy which he holds in his hand. Well, this lady, who now gets thousands for a single night's performance, began her histrionic career, it seems, in a most humble and precarious mode. So at least says Dr. Doran, in foremating the public good secondary to the secondar gularity. A pale, fragile, but bright-eyed and in-tellectual looking little girl of perhaps ten or 12 years of age used to appear in the most crowded part of the walk, an hour or so before sunset, at-tended by an old woman who carried a violin, a tin cup, and a carpet. While the girl shood apart for a moment, with something of a rapt look, the old woman spread the carpet, put down the cup at one corner, and scraped a preliminary air upon the violin. The air was not always appropriate to the drama that was to follow, for the favorite overture of the performer was "Ma'm'selle Pinson, est une blonde" — and that was like making "Yankee Doodle" or "Nelly Dawser".

Doodle" or "Nelly Dawson" pass as introductory symphonies to "Hamlet" or "Macbeth." However, the orchestra having terminated the prelude, the girl stepped on to the carpet, with the air of a little tragedy queen, and recited long tirades from Racine and Corneille. But then she recited them superbly; and despite her air of sufficience and box recited them superbly; fering and her exceedingly poor attire, she produced such an effect upon her hearers that welle she rested the audience were never weary of filling the cup carried around by the old woman, with sous and half-franc pieces, in order to encourage her to new efforts. the cup carried around by the old woman, with sous and half-frame pieces, in order to encourage her to new efforts. The collection was always a large one; and when the delicate looking child retired, all palpitating, and with a flush upon her cheek, of which it was difficult to say whether it was the flush of her own triumph, or that of death destined to triumph over her, the acclamations and cordial compliments of her hearers greeted her as she passed.

Well, a winter had gone, and a summer had come, but with it did not come to the loiterers in the Elysian fields the Tragic Muse whom they were disposed and eager to welcome. But during the year a marvellous child appeared on the stage of the Gymnase Dramatique. She came like a meteor and so departed. The truth was, that her friends saw at once that she was too good for that stage, and she was withdrawn, in order to appear on one more classical. Well do I remember that we loiterers in the shady avenues that lead to Xeuilly used to dispute, and we youths the loudest of them all, as to whether the debutante of the Gymnase, was or was not the inspired nymph that used in the public highway to create as much delight as Duchesnois herself before the critical pit of the "Francais."

The dispute was not to be determined by us, and in the meantime we spoke of our absent delight as of a lost Pleiad, and so the year wore away. And then came the eventful night on which a girl, of whom no one had previously heard by the name she now wore, glided on to the stage of the Theatre Francais, and in a moment awoke French Tragedy out of the shroud in which she had laid her down to die. The name of the girl had been decently enveloped, since Duchesnois was Rachel; and so pale and uncarthly was she, yet so inspired in her look, so commanding, so irresistible, that we was now mand the commanding to irresistible, that of the commanding is or irresistible, that and so pale and unearthly was she, yet so inspired in her look, so commanding, so irresistible, that gvery one was not only ready to acknowledge the new sovereign of the tragic throne, but all Paris declared that the Rachel who was now famous forever was no other than the poor girl who used to stand on a carpet in the Champs Elysees and recite Racine for sous and half-franc pieces.

The great French tragedienne, Rachel, is now delighting the theatre goers of New York, by her representations of the great female characters of French tragedy; although we confess we think it must be the "pursuit of pleasure under difficulties" for one to try to enjoy the performances of an actress whose language he cannot understand, and of the sense of whose most impassioned sentences he can only catch a feeble idea, from the English translation of the tragedy which he holds mankind.

These are facts known to every reading man the editor of the Journal; yet he writes column after column of sophistry and falsehood, in order to mystify the true aspect of the case, if possible, and conceal his infidelity to those whose interests it is his special duty to defend.

To undertake a specific reply to the many notoriously false statements he is daily uttering in connection with this subject, would be the extreme of absurdity.

To talk of such a wicked faction as this saving the Union of the States, or accomplishing anything social or political but unmitigated mischief, is an insult to all sensible and honest-minded

Our friends at a distance think that the riots are over. This is a mistake. Law and order have no meaning here when applied to the protection of the rights of foreigners. Not a day or can that an extensive combination or organization a night passes over that some infernal outrage is has been discovered among the negroes near Garinoffensive foreigners. They go in gangs into the cowardly villains who beat him are permitted to run at large. What had upon real estate, it can be found in all the sales made during the past month. Only within the last week the Maxey estate was sold at the court-house door at auction. It was appraised at seventy-five thousand dollars, and would have brought that six months ago; it sold for twenty-five thousand. Rents all over the city have depreciated over thirty per cent. The ominous words, "To Rent," stare our citizens in the face on alarger proportion of houses in the upper and sales as they went, to a free State.

No arms or ammunition of any kind could be discovered, but the negroes confessed that they were to meet at Garlandsville next Saturday night to make a start. When asked why they selected that place as a rendezvous, they could give no reason, and whatever the cause of the accident, it is evident there was no carelessness in the State; and whatever the cause of the accident, it is evident there was no carelessness in the case; without it can be charged against those having been pressed so near to the rail as to touch the flange of the wheel, thus lifting the engine to throw it from the rail. Arms and ammunition are probably concealed somewhere, as such a scheme would never been witnessed in Louisville. Four hundred families are preparing to leave in one body. These are the members of a single emigration society. There are several other similar societies, the condition of which we do not know. Of this much dition of which we do not know. Of this much mongus, and we cannot be too vigilant in watch-among us, and we we feel assured, that unless some prompt action is taken by our citizens to protect them in their lives and property, this time next year will not find five and property, this time next year will not find five hundred foreigners left in Louisville.

It is useless to shut our eyes to these facts.

They are facts, and known to be so by every one who takes the trouble to investigate the subject.

MAIL ROBBER ARRESTED.—Deputy Marshall Conch, of Ohio, on Saturday last, at Lafayette, Indiana, arrested Edward Reynolds, a bowsman on a canal boat, an a charge of aiding in the robbery of the post office at Circleville, Ohio. Jerome Gephart, who had been a clerk in the Circleville office, was arrested some time last week. It aveces that the pair I purchased of you suit beyond my expectations, by day and candle light. I have found my sight improve so much since I have used them, that was arrested some time last week. It appears that in October last, Gephart abstracted from the office a money package containing one thousand dollars, which he immediately passed over to Reynolds, who invested it in the canal boat on joint account. They are now both confined in the Cincinnati jail, waiting their trial in October part. e office

CORISH MINERS.—Their risks are great. According to Dr. Barman, one-half of the miners die of consumption between the ages of thirty-five and fifty. Some are killed every year by falling from the ladders in their ascent or descent; and numbers maimed by the daily blastings, in which the county explodes three hundred tons of gunpowder annually. In Gwernep the deaths by violence are one in five. In Union Mine, in the same parish, one of the levels could only be worked when the wind was south or southeast; but the instant change occurred at the surface the men had to fly for their lives, to escape a deadly gas that then issue of from the fissures of the rook. Gov. Wright will address the citizens of Jeffer sonville, Indiana, and vicinity, at the market house, in that place, this (Friday) afternoon a 3 o'clock, on political subjects. Go and hear the truthful Hoosier Governor on Sam and Sambo.

A few days since at the "Star Nail Mill." onton, Ohio, was rolled a sheet of nail plate iron 46 feet long, one foot wide, and No. 16 wire gauge in thickness. Its weight was more than 1,000 pounds, and it is supposed to be the largest sheet of iron ever rolled.

DANSEUSE MARRIED .- The Russian danseuse, Yrea Mathias, is married to the French pantomimist, Francois Ravel. The event occurred some time since, but as diplomacy regulates all these matters and often enjoins secresy, it probably has been thought that the charming Yrea could captivate more hearts as M'lle Mathias than as Madame Ravel.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE OF A BOY .- A boy twelve years of age, named James Montague, attempted ty commit suicide, in Philadelphia, on Saturday afternoon, by taking laudanum. He was discover ed in time to apply the usual remedies with effect and he was revived. The boy had been suffering from depression of spirits. The suicide mania has seized upon children, too, it seems.

DUELING .- Two duels were fought from polit ical causes, in Little Rock, Arkansas, on the 29th ult. The only wounds received were a ball in the right arm, and a clipping off of a portion of one of the combatant's ears. The parties, named Henry Castors, W. R. King, John Ruffleson, and Adam Brown, have all been office-holders in the State. They surely set a good example to their constituents, the people.

"Changes of the Bells," a song for two voices, words by Carpenter, music by Glover. This of happiness. moves off at first as a sacred song, the Sabbath bell-then joyfully, as the bridal bell-finishing like a dirge, with the mourning bell. It is well arranged; the melody is rather simple, free from flourishes, and quite feeling. A beautiful piece.

The "Blandina Polka Brilliante," by F. Geil, is a somewhat difficult and brilliant piece, with several excellent ideas.

city and country merchant, both to have some one litical doctrines. From a speech made by Gov. who will buy for the one of the other. The former wants an assortment of goods, a little dry goods, a little silk and fancy goods, a little hardware, queensware, and crockery; he wants some brief extract: groceries; it will cost him something considerable in lost time, expenses to the city while in it and in September back home, and, unless he has some experience, if he attempts to buy himself, may go to the wrong houses—houses that will not do by him as they would by others. Or, he has a lot of produce for sale. Not being able at all times to keep himself posted as to the most liberal houses, and the daily variations in the markets, he is apt to lose more than would pay all his expenses. If he sends to a regular dry goods merchant, or grocer, or other dealer, he will be giving a great deal of trouble; regular one branch traders have neither time nor experience in articles out of their line, to do jusexperience in articles out of their line, to do justice to purchases for him; besides, the country mer- ler, of Pennsylvania. chant does not always feel inclined to send to his city friend an order for a dozen different kinds of goods. But when an establishment is opened for the express purpose of acting as agent for the c ountry merchant, at a fair percentage, the latter saves considerably by giving his custom to that agent or broker. He has experience—he keeps 6 himself posted as to prices-he knows where to bay and where to sell, and in his hands the country merchant may feel safe to leave his purchases and Dism sales. Such a broker or agent is our friend, Mr. Samuel Montgomery, on Main street, between Third and Fourth, four doors above the Bank of Louisville. Try him, and you will be pleased.

OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES .- Dr. Holmes de livered the second of his series of lectures in this eity last night. His subject was Byron and Moore To those who heard this lecture we need say no thing more, and to those who did not hear it we despair of giving any adequate idea of its literary xcellencies. Byron and Moore-two poets whos names are linked with every hallowed household nemory-whose poetry still lingers as a spell around the heart, found in Dr. Holmes a critiworthy of their genius. Himself a poet-a poe whose numbers embalm in seraphic verse all th appreciable excellencies of American scenery and merican peculiarities-he was peculiarly fitted t the task of interpreting to an American audienc the characteristics of two such men as Lord Byro and Thomas Moore. It is useless to dwell on Dr. Holmes' merits as a lecturer. Any man who had genius of that order which ranks him with the first bards of any age or land. LOUISVILLE, Dec. 23, 1854.

Mr. SOLOMONS: Being compelled to wear Spectacles, I have never been able toget a pair but what made my eyes ache—I have tried a great many glasses, but always failed, until I obtained a pair from you. I can see by a greatest ease and comfort. Mrs. Wells is very much pleased with her glasses.

I remain yours, truly,
No. 664 Jefferson street, next door to Preston.

MR. SOLOMONS: Sir—When you first arrived in this city, I called with Mrs. Beattie at your office, and purchased four pairs of your Patent Spectacles. We found them superior to any we had ever used before. They realized more than we could have expected. We can now see as comfortably as when a girl and boy. I remain yours, respectfully,

J. A. BEATTIE, Fourth street.

Mr. Solomons can be seen at his office, on Fourth st between Main and Market, over Raymond & Patton Drug Store.

To all who Value their Sight R. SOLOMONS: ABOUT FOUR months since I purchased a pair your spectacles, and at that time could not read without them. I now find my sight so much improved by their use, that I can read ordinary newspaper print without them as well as I could before I used spectacles.

JNO. P. SMITH

Corner First and Walnut streets.

LOUISVILLE, June 16, 1896. MR. SOLOMONS: Dear Sir: Having been deprived of the pleasure of reading or writing for the last two years, and not having been enabled to procure any spectacles with which I could see any better than without, and which also immediately produced pain and uneasiness. I was induced, by your advertisement, to call at your office and purchased a pair of your improved spectacles, with which I can see to read the finest print with perfect case and comfort; I can also see with the same case to go about my regular business. JESSE HOLLIDAY.

BRANDENBURG, KY.

Brandenspurge, Kv.

Mr. Solomons: Having noticed your advertisement in the Louisville and Lexington papers, I called at your office with my wife to purchase for hera pair of your improved spectacles, with which, I am happy to say, she can see to thread the finest needle, (which she has not done before in five years,) or sew and read for any length of time by day or candle-light, as well as she ever could. She has purchased several pairs of spectacles in the last five years, but they invariably caused the eyes to become weak and tired after using for a short time. No amount wouldinduce herto part with those she purchased from you.

Yours, ISAAO McISAAOS.

Lexinoton Kv, March 25, 1855.

P. S.—With the pair I bought of you for my own use, I can see as well as when a boy.
